GENERAL INFORMATION

Our lease encompasses well over 250,000 acres located in the beautiful Sierra Madre mountains. Our lodge sits at 8200 ft elevation next to a beautiful lake, where elk, fallow deer, waterfowl, and turkey are seen daily. Our amazing, well managed turkey population is extremely high and monitored throughout the entire year. Most of our guides live on the ranch year-round, to maximize our knowledge of where to find birds. We run and gun or utilize feeders to help finalize your Royal or World Slam.

Early season temperatures are nice, but can be colder in the mornings:
28-35°F (morning) but 70-75°F (day)

Mid to Late season temperatures are very comfortable:
35-40°F (morning) and 75-85°F (day)

TYPICAL EXPERIENCE

Our hunters arrive at the ranch midafternoon after our short drive from the airport. You arrive with a welcome drink, a light snack or lunch, and unpack at the lodge. We shoot turkey targets soon after, to make sure everyone is comfortable with their gun, prior to a large welcoming dinner. Our typical day starts around 4:30 am with a light breakfast of juice, coffee, snacks, fruit and toast. Our hunters depart in 4x4 vehicles for their 1x1 hunting experience, which lasts until mid to late morning. We return to camp for a late breakfast or early lunch. A second outing in the afternoon begins around 2 pm and we hunt until dark. Our 4x4 vehicles typically depart camp with two hunters and their own guide. We wrap up each night with a custom prepared meal from our great chef, enjoy margaritas, wine, or other beverages around a large custom fireplace.
